My name is Cara Bowerman. I grew up in Yukon, Oklahoma. I pursued a degree in Art Education with a minor in Art History at the University of Central Oklahoma on a Track Scholarship. I fell in love with Edmond and now live here with my Husband, who is a firefighter. I teach Art and coach Cross Country and Track at Edmond North High School.

... Education is truly my calling and it is a blessing every day to be able to share my love of art with so many impressionable students. The students truly inspire me more than I inspire them! Outside of the classroom I am an avid painter that loves to create and evolve my style. After sustaining multiple severe injuries from a car accident in Spring of 2012, my art gravitated towards the abstract realm. I needed to feel free and my art was a way for me to heal. I pull my inspirations from my personal experiences and the world around me. I paint in almost a “stained glass” looking style. This style is a result of attending a Lutheran church throughout my childhood. The church had the most gorgeous stained glass windows. Another inspiration to my work is a quote by Jasper Johns, “Do something, do something to that, and then do something to that.” This propelled me into painting in the stained glass style which inspires me to paint in layers. Each piece I see is a little bit more of myself. I believe that Art is a direction and not a destination. All people can be artists with the right inspiration and motivation.
